

A Partial list of areas covered by Protexol's 40 years of / in Custom Client Owned Business Process and Management Systems, including Protexol's Thirty~4 program with COPS – Continuous Operational Process Synergy, EYRIS Unified Digital Communications - messaging and methods, SRT- Smart Risk Technologies - Proactive Risk Methodology, KiAT – Knows it all Technologies; Enterprise Overwatch and What we call the University of Protexol where enterprise talent can learn to their depth required all this and much more including Malcom Baldrige assistance services if needed?

Management in the field of business processes; business process re-engineering services, featuring enterprise-wide identification, process mapping, institutionalization, and streamlining business processes; business process Re-engineering services featuring identification of best process candidates for improvement, merging, based on efficiency, effectiveness, cost of capital consumed; predetermining the potential causal factors and likely root causes of process failure; business process re-engineering, including addressing potential root causes, and services featuring the implementation of custom business process, and management systems for improving Enterprise-Wide performance.

Enterprise business management, consulting in the field of business process strategy, efficiency, risk, communications, automation, and monitoring; business process consulting services in the fields of Enterprise resource planning, continual business risk assessment and real-time risk mitigation tracking and implementation, and unified communications; business consulting services in the fields of routine incident, serious incident, crisis, and disaster, mitigation; business auditing, featuring proactive process problem identification, root cause analysis, integrating proactive risk analysis, and mitigation processes; business, consulting in the fields of business, risk, mitigation processes surrounding business process, failure, events, causal factor and root, cause analysis and system - generated, sustainable, corrective actions; business planning in the fields of risk, identification, risk, institutionalization, risk analysis, and risk, mitigation; business management, consulting, and advisory services in the fields business processes, process development, strategies, business process, improvement, plan development, organizational transformation, business process, technology, integration, and operational sustainability; business, consulting in the fields of project, engineering, manufacturing, and service systems process and methodology; providing business information in the fields of business process analysis, business process improvement, and business process innovation; internal auditing services, namely, business auditing integrated with proactive risk assessment; business consulting services related to business management, control, and communications related to document development, strategic planning, and disaster planning; providing secure, private, client short - and long-term electronic data storage.

Training services in the field of business management and business processes; training services in the field of messaging technology; training services in the field of proactive risk identification and mitigation analysis relating to business management, and business processes; educational services, namely, conducting classes, workshops, non-downloadable, webinars, and online courses in the field of business management and business processes; educational services, namely, providing online classes, courses, and courses in the form of online non-downloadable modules in the field of business management, business processes, digital messaging technology, Risk, KiAT, plus advanced management education up to and including Malcom Baldrige services.